Mary at Easter

When silence turns to joy!

Dear Friends:

The Gospels are strangely quiet about Mary on Easter morning. There is no scene of her running to the tomb, no breathless announcement, no recorded words of surprise. And yet, the Church has always known: Mary was waiting.

She had waited before. She waited nine months for a Child she did not yet understand. She waited thirty years for a promise she could not yet see. She waited at the foot of the Cross when everything seemed lost. And now she waits again, not in despair, but in hope. Because the woman who once said yes to the impossible had learned that God always keeps His word.

St. Augustine gives us the key to this mystery when he tells us that Mary conceived Christ first in her heart before she conceived Him in her womb. Faith came before sight. Trust came before proof. That is why Easter did not shock Mary. It fulfilled what she had already believed deep within her heart.

While the stone was sealed, while the guards stood watch, while the disciples hid behind locked doors, Mary trusted. She trusted because she had already given everything to God: her plans, her future, her Son, her life. She knew that God does not abandon what He loves.

And this is where Mary meets us.

Every one of us knows what it means to wait. We wait for healing, for reconciliation, for clarity, for prayers that seem unanswered. We wait for burdens to lift and for sorrow to make sense. Easter teaches us that waiting with faith is never wasted time. God is at work even when we cannot see it.

Pope St. John Paul II once said that Mary believed "that the word spoken to her by the Lord would be fulfilled," even when everything seemed to contradict it. Easter is the moment when that belief bursts into light. The silence of Holy Saturday gives way to joy. The darkness of Good Friday gives way to life. The promise proves stronger than the grave.

Mary's joy is not loud. It is deep. It is the joy of someone who has suffered greatly and trusted anyway. The same heart that stood firm at the Cross now overflows with peace. The same hands that held her Son in death now rejoice in His life. Her faith becomes the Church's faith. Her hope becomes our hope.

Here at Jesus the Good Shepherd, Easter is not just something we celebrate; it is something we are invited to live. God desires resurrection not only for Jesus, but for us: in our families, in our marriages, in our parish, in the wounded places we try to hide. Keep praying the Rosary throughout the Easter Season.

So as the Alleluia returns and the bells ring out again, look to Mary. She stands beside us still, not in sorrow now, but in joy. She does what she has always done. She points us to her Son and says, quietly and confidently, "Trust Him. He is alive."

Christ is Risen. And Mary believed it first.

Fr. Peter

FROM THE CATECHISM

CCC 164 — “Faith often walks in darkness, trusting in God’s promises before their fulfillment; like Mary, who believed before she saw, the believer learns to wait in hope, knowing that God is always faithful to His word.”

CCC 643 — “The Resurrection was not immediately understood, even by the disciples; yet through signs and encounters, their hearts were opened to believe what had been foretold in the Scriptures.”

CCC 1001 — “Christ’s Resurrection is not only a past event but the source of new life; those who believe are already raised with Him, their lives hidden in God and destined for glory.”

CCC 1168 — “Easter is the ‘Feast of feasts,’ where the Church rejoices in the victory of life over death; what was hidden in suffering is revealed in glory, and the promise proves stronger than the grave.”
